Celebrating Community Archaeology in the South Pennines

Celebrating Community Archaeology in the South Pennines

Watershed Landscape Project, Pennine Prospects and the Division of Archaeological and Environmental Sciences, University of Bradford

Conference: Saturday 16 March, 10am-4.30pm
(registration from 9.45am)

Family Fun Day: Sunday 17 March, 11am-3pm

Venue: Phoenix South-West, University of Bradford

An area encompassing the upland zone of the South Pennines from Ilkley in the north to Marsden in the south, the Watershed Landscape Project aims to empower local residents to investigate their landscape and promote a greater understanding of the important role the moorland played to the surrounding settlements. This event is a celebration of the work carried out by local volunteers on archaeological projects across the South Pennines as part of the Heritage Lottery funded Watershed Landscape Project.

SATURDAY 16 MARCH CONFERENCE

The conference will include papers on upland archaeology, community archaeology projects, aspects of communicating heritage to a wider audience, and accessing funding.

Keynote speaker: Dr Carenza Lewis, Director, Access Cambridge Archaeology

SUNDAY 17 MARCH FAMILY FUN DAY

A mixture of 'drop in' activities and taster sessions for all the family, as well as an assortment of workshops which will introduce some of the archaeological recording methods and techniques used on the Project, as well methods of communicating local history.
